Claire Rashid, clinical quality and effectiveness , Leicestershire Partnership Trust

Why are they an audit hero?

Claire has developed the Leicestershire Partnership Clinical Audit Team from small beginnings. She continually invests in the team and enables staff to keep up to date by attending conferences and gaining accredited qualifications.

Claire set up the first trust based Clinical Audit Conference to enable audit and QI to be promoted to a wider group of staff. This event is now a regular fixture of the calendar. She ensures that the clinical audit team are always linked to the latest initiatives and recently led the publication of an article in Nursing Times.

The team of staff who work with her are extremely positive about her management style and the support that she provides them. Claire is a great advocate for the role of nurses in clinical audit and QI and ensures that staff feel supported to take part in projects on both a local and national level.

Claire is due to retire at the end of March 2017 and I feel the nomination for audit hero would be a fitting celebration of her contribution to clinical audit in Leicestershire.
