Reveal your #AuditHero and tell us what they do

Helen Atkins, advanced nurse practitioner in diabetes care, University Hospital of Leicester

Why are they an audit hero?

Helen single-handedly takes on the responsibility of planning, organising and co-ordinating the data collection for the National Inpatient Diabetes Audit each year. This is in a Trust which includes 3 sites and up to 300 patients with diabetes occupying beds on the day of the audit. Helen inspires staff at all levels to take part in the audit, communicating the importance of ensuring we collect complete and accurate data. This data provides the diabetes team with vital benchmarking information which we have been able to use to shape our service and highlight areas which require input. I would like to nominate Helen as an audit hero to reflect her dedication and absolute tireless work in supporting this audit activity.
